

We may not all be Engineers, but we all are Women in Engineering

EC Project Managers at the

Aston Institute of Photonic Technologies

ensure the smooth running of large international research and training networks funded by the European Commission. Together we are supporting the training of 69 PhDs and 54 postdoctoral researchers and engineers who are using cutting-edge optical technologies for today's societal challenges and digital needs.
